Never before have all the tools you need been available in one fully, integrated, easy to use product !

With Divorce Financials, family law firms can:

- Convert prospects into clients by simultaneously showing the after-tax impact of, up to five, alimony vs. child-support payment schedules on the income of both parties.
- Assemble distributable assets and liabilities and propose various scenarios effectuating distribution. Always know how much cash adjustment is needed to "make the pot right!"
- Compute required spousal support payments based on after-tax budget requirement of custodial parent.
- Easily produce customized, professional reports and charts, suitable for clients, opposing counsel and the judge.
- Reach quick settlements by presenting after-tax impact of spousal and child support scenarios plus effectuated distributions.
- Automatically calculate child support (NJ only) based on varying alimony scenarios.

"At my firm, we understand that all our divorce clients are in a position they never expected to be. We also know that since emotions run high in divorce cases, our clients need a steady hand that will efficiently, compassionately, and competently work to protect their interests. This process clearly implicates locating the optimal point in the tax matrix between alimony and child support whenever possible. Easy Soft's family law products help us work with our clients, opposing counsel, in MESP sessions, and at court hearings to reach that desired equilibrium in divorce settlements.

In my 38 years of exclusively practicing matrimonial law in NJ, there has never been anything like the seamless integration of the Divorce Financials and Case Information Statement programs that Easy Soft provides."
